There is no acceptable delay to fund a service that provides immediate, accessible care to people in crisis who may not have other options. I'm glad HOPELINE is finally getting the funds it needs.

I'm so glad that Republicans on JFC finally allowed us to release funds for the HOPELINE suicide prevention program, but these funds should have been released back in July when the budget was signed. 1/2

$110K is already in the state budget for a text service that helps people dealing with suicidal thoughts. But the Leg's finance committee hasn't released the funding.

The suicide prevention taskforce recommended providing the funding through a bill, which takes longer.

More game playing & power plays from GOP JFC. Rather than release $$ appropriated in the budget for the suicide hotline, they put it in their own $70 million slush fund. Then they took the summer off instead of working & still haven't released $. google.com/amp/s/madison.com

Replying to @ChrisTaylorWI

Unfortunately, JFC Republicans decided to play politics with people's lives and wait 3 months to release those funds. 2/2
